GLASS BILL PASSAGE EXPECTED

The enclosed letter from Congressman Fred B. Rooney will show that we are attempting to secure passage of the Antique Glassware Bill this year.

The most important step at this time is for everyone to contact members of the Subcommittee on Commerce, telling them of your interest in the bill. Address your letters to:

Congressman _____
U.S. House of Representatives
Washington, D.C. 20515

Members of Subcommittee on Commerce:

John E. Moss, Calif.
W. S. Stuckey, Jr., Ga.
Bob Eckhardt, Tex.
Henry Helstoski, N.J.
John Breckinridge, Ky.

James T. Broyhill, N.C.
John Ware, Pa.
John Y. McCollister, Nebr.
Samuel H. Young, Ill.

PATTERN IDENTIFICATION CROSS-REFERENCE

We are happy to include in this issue a cross-reference of the pattern names given by our two foremost authors on the subject of carnival glass, namely, Mrs. Marian Hartung and Mrs. Rose Presznick. This is being printed in response to the many requests for means of proper identification, and as a service to our readers.

This cross reference was previously printed in the August 1969 American Carnival Glass Association News and has been updated by the Northern Virginia Carnival Glass Club. Special thanks to Helen Christie for taking on this project and presenting it to us for publication.

Visitors to the Fenton Art Glass Company are invited to tour the factory at regular intervals during the working day on week days. It is an interesting experience, and the visitor can see for himself the many operations necessary to produce handmade glass. The management of the company has remained in the family. The President of the firm is Frank M. Fenton and the Executive Vice President is William C. Fenton, both sons of the founder.

RENEWALS ENCOURAGING

As we begin our second year we want to acknowledge the many nice letters we have received during the past year from our subscribers, and we are greatly encouraged by the high rate of renewals.

Once again we state that the purpose of this periodical is to INFORM--both the novice and the expert--bringing you news about reproductions, re-issues, and new carnival glass, as well as news about collectors, techniques of manufacturing, patterns, book reviews, etc. We shall also continue to press for the enactment of legislation that will require that the year of manufacture be incorporated in the glass at the time of its manufacture.

FENTON'S NEW CARNIVAL

The enclosed brochure shows the new line of carnival glass by Fenton. Included are their "Millersburg Cream and Sugar" reproductions. The sugar is actually the spooner of the old original Millersburg Cherry table set. Both pieces are made from new moulds.

THE HISTORY OF FENTON GLASS

The FENTON ART GLASS COMPANY is located in Williamstown, West Virginia, across the Ohio River from Marietta, Ohio. The company was founded in Martins Ferry, Ohio in 1905 by Frank L. Fenton, a craftsman experienced in the making and decorating of fine glassware. With his brother John as his partner, Frank started a decorating shop, using "blanks" from nearby glass factories. They applied their own designs, and fired them in their own small kiln, which was located in an abandoned factory they rented. Their letterhead identified them as the Fenton Art Glass Co. --"Decorators, Enamelers, Designers, Gilders, of Tableware, Bar Bottles, Lemonade Sets and Novelties."

The Fenton brothers' enterprise began to prosper, and among the first to notice their success were the glass manufacturers who furnished them with the blanks to be decorated. The Fentons soon had the problem of securing an adequate supply of blanks, so they decided to build a plant to make their own glass.

The first pieces of handmade Fenton Art Glass made in the factory in Williamstown were made on January 2, 1906. A major asset of the new company was Jacob Rosenthal, master glassworker and chemist. He began work for the Fentons before the first factory was under roof and he attracted many former co-workers from other glass companies in the Wheeling area. He had been working with glass since shortly after the Civil War and he stayed at Fenton until 1930.

Rosenthal developed many secret formulas for colored glass, including his chocolate glass, now called "Caramel Slag", and "Golden Agate". He also helped to develop their first iridescent ware, known to collectors today as Carnival Glass. In fact, the Fenton Art Glass Company soon began to proclaim on their letterhead that they were the "Originators of Iridescent Ware" and there have been few challenges to the statement. When Jake Rosenthal died, he left his glass formulas as a legacy to his son Paul, who sold them to the Fenton firm when he retired from the firm in 1949. Thus the Fenton Carnival Glass made today is a continuation of the glass formula first developed and made at the Fenton factory in 1907.

Carnival glass soon became the backbone of the company's business. In 1908 Fenton was making Golden Iridescent, Blue Opalescent, Canary Opalescent and Green, Crystal and Ruby glassware. The pieces included water and lemonade sets, bowls, sugar and cream, butter dishes, spooners, nut dishes, vases and novelties. Then, in 1921, they introduced a new type of iridescent glassware, in opaque colors of Royal Blue, Persian Pearl, Wisteria, Grecian Gold, and Ruby. They explained that their glass colors were not stained, painted, or cased, but "ruby all the way through". In 1925 they added a line of "off-hand" art glass, completely handmade with colors inlaid in the glass while it was hot. This new art glass proved to be too expensive to maintain production in filling orders, so it was made for only a two-year period. This "off-hand" art glass is among the most sought after Fenton collectors' items today.

During the depression years Fenton, like many other glass companies, was forced to supplement their production with industrial glass. Then, in 1938, they began production of their now famous cranberry opalescent glass made in reproductions of antique glass. Today the visitor to Fenton's modern glass factory and showrooms will see a wide selection of their wares, which include reproductions of Carnival Glass in many of their early patterns. Unlike their earlier carnival glass, these pieces have the "Fenton" name impressed on the bottom.

The Pioneer Cooper

"Why don't you speak for yourself, John?" The John Alden of whom Longfellow wrote in these classic lines was the cooper who came to Plymouth on the Mayflower. Plate #5 in the Fenton annual American Craftsman Series commemorates the pioneer coopers, whose barrel and cask making skills played so important a role in the establishment of America.

The first four plates in this series (Glassmaker, Printer, Blacksmith, Shoemaker) are no longer available. Moulds for the Cooper plate will be destroyed on December 31, 1974. The limited edition collector's plate is in Carnival Glass and comes packaged with a wooden display stand.

Mr. E. Ward Russell, President Emeritus
American Carnival Glass Association
P.O. Box 4012
Silver Spring, MD 20904

Dear Mr. Russell:

Once again, I would like to thank you for your efforts in attempting to secure the passage of the Antique Glassware Bill.

Recently, I have checked with members of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce and its staff regarding the present status of this bill. It is still alive and awaiting mark-up. The Subcommittee has revised my bill to deal with some of the problems thought to exist if all forms of glass were covered.

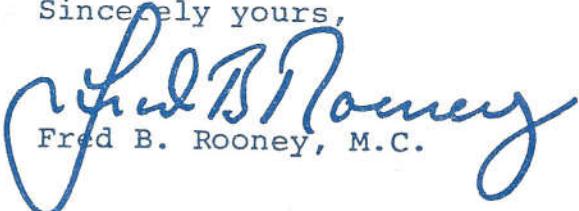

Hopefully, within the next year, the Committee will have the time to mark-up the revised draft, vote on it and send it to the full Committee for a vote.

The delay is simply caused by the fact that many of the major legislative problems, such as the energy crisis and railroad reorganization, were handled by the Commerce Committee, and these problems precluded the Committee from finishing other matters.

I would recommend that your efforts for the next year be placed on contacting the members of the Subcommittee on Commerce which presently has jurisdiction over the bill.

Please do not hesitate to contact me on matters relating to the Antique Glassware Bill. I can assure you that I am exerting great effort to assist in the passage of this bill.

Sincerely yours,

Fred B. Rooney, M.C.

CARNIVAL GLASS CLUBS

We don't usually carry club news but we thought our readers would be interested in hearing about two new carnival glass clubs recently organized, one on the east coast and one on the west coast.

PACIFIC NORTHWEST

The Pacific Northwest Carnival Glass Club was formed in Portland, Oregon at a recent banquet meeting. The speaker was Sherman Hand of Seattle, and there was a large turn-out of collectors from Washington and Oregon cities to hear him speak. The club was organized with over thirty memberships.

Another organizational meeting will be held in Tacoma, Washington in early February to expand the membership in Washington state. Collectors in Idaho, Montana, Alaska and British Columbia are urged to join and may do so by writing: Pacific Northwest Carnival Glass Club, Box 20091, Portland, Oregon 97220.

KEYSTONE CARNIVAL GLASS CLUB

A new Pennsylvania club was formed in the latter part of 1973 and is meeting monthly at the Lititz Recreation Center on Route 50 in Lititz Springs Park. Their third meeting, held on December 8th, was attended by 27 members. Their emblem is the "keystone", as Pennsylvania is known as the Keystone State. Club dues are $2, with associate membership of $1 for each additional membership in the same household. Address inquiries to the secretary-treasurer: Mrs. Mary Darrah, R. D. 1, Box 23, Paradise, Pa. 17562.
